

[00:00:00,000 - 00:01:05,000] Hey guys, welcome back to the channel. So today's story is really wild and honestly kind of sad. It's about Haley Bailey. Yes, our Little Mermaid and her ex rapper and YouTuber DDG. Now, if you've been following their relationship, you probably already know things have been rocky between them for a while, but recently it got way more serious. Let's get into what's going on. The restraining order and what started it. So, here's the deal. Haley Bailey has officially filed a restraining order

[00:00:32,000 - 00:01:48,000] against DDG. And the reason she says DDG puts his hands on her. Yes, you heard that [Music] right. This all started back in January according to Haley. DDG came over to pick up their baby boy. Hello. And Haley wanted to talk, just talk about setting up a proper visitation schedule, you know, like something official through the court. She didn't want drama and she just wanted a plan. But DDG didn't take that well. While she was buckling Baby Hallow into the car seat, she says DDG started getting really angry, like out

[00:01:11,000 - 00:02:22,000] of nowhere. Then she claims he told her over and over, "Get up out of my car, beat." Yep, that's what he said. Loud repeatedly. And here's where things got worse. the alleged attack. So, imagine this. Your baby's crying. You're trying to stay calm, but the person you share a child with is yelling at you. Haley says she got nervous, and obviously and honestly, who wouldn't? She didn't feel safe leaving Baby Hallow with DDG in that state, so things got physical. She

[00:01:47,000 - 00:02:48,000] says they started wrestling and during that moment, DDG allegesly pulled her hair and slumped her face into the steering wheel. That's when she said her tooth got chipped. Yeah, her tooth actually chipped from the impact. She said she was in pain and crying, but still got in the car and rolled over to DDG's house with the baby. When she got there, she told the family what happened. After dropping off, she left hysterical and bruised. And get this, back in January, Haley actually posted a

[00:02:17,000 - 00:03:26,000] video on social media showing her chipped tooth. At the time, she didn't say what happened, but by now we all know why she was at the dentist. It all connects. Another scary moment. Now, fast forward to March and things got even more creepy. DG apparently showed up at Haley's house again without permission and just walked in. He went straight to her bedroom and took a picture of her empty bed. Then he sent it to her with the message. I know what you've been on. Low. Like what? It sounds like he was trying to say she had

[00:02:52,000 - 00:03:52,000] someone else over. Maybe because there were rumors going around that she was hanging out with her Little Mermaid co-star Jordan, but no one really knows for sure. That's just a guess. Haley said the whole thing felt super creepy. And honestly, yeah, it really does. Then just 4 days later, things took another bad turn. So, here's the thing. At the time, Haley and baby Hallow were sick. Like really sick. Had something called RSV, which can be really bad for babies. But DDJ didn't seem to care. He was mad

[00:03:21,000 - 00:04:26,000] that Haley wouldn't let him take Hello. And instead of trying to work it out calmly, he went straight to the internet, posting like Haley was just trying to keep him from his son. He made it seem like she was being the bitter mom or something. But behind closed doors, something totally different was going on. Hey says when DDG showed up at her house, he got verbally abusive again. Then he actually smashed her ring camera, grabbed her phone, and ran off with it. And get this, when he was driving away, he allegedly threw the

[00:03:54,000 - 00:04:58,000] phone out of the window and yelled, "Go get it, be like, what in the world?" He was actually totally out of control. And the worst part, he went online after and acted like he was the victim. That's a thing. Let me say something if No, no. I'm saying, but I don't know where came from. Yo, stop these fake allegations. This is a father. This is a real person. Hey, bro. We on screen, bro. But Haley has been dealing with all his chaos behind the scenes. She says she was just trying to protect herself and her baby.

[00:04:26,000 - 00:05:30,000] And that's just the beginning, you guys. There's still so much more to this story, including what DG said to Haley when rumors about Brent Fry started flying around. This is the daily popcorn where

[00:04:58,000 - 00:06:01,000] every day is movie worthy. The Brent Frier's rumors and DG's accusations. If you've been following the story from the beginning, then you already know things between Haley Bailey and DG have been super intense. And just when you thought it could get messier, boom, it did. Let's talk about Brent's friars and what sets DG off even more. So after all the drama with the phone and the ring camera, DDG started getting real suspicious. He accused Haley of messing around with singer Brent

[00:05:29,000 - 00:06:37,000] Freyers. Yeah, like out of nowhere. No proof, just accusations. According to Haley, DDG went totally off the rails. He was jealous, paranoid, and started blowing up her phone with angry texts. Not just mad, but like next level mad. She said he kept calling her all kinds of names, like straight up foul stuff. And get this, he told her, "You're just a baby mama and that's all you ever." Wow, that's heat hard. Imagine someone you used to love and have a baby with talking to you like that. And instead of

[00:06:04,000 - 00:07:10,000] letting the court or their lawyers handle the baby situation, DG kept bringing up the brain stuff he was making it about him and what he thought Haley was doing behind his back. But Haiti kept saying she just wanted peace. She just wanted to rape her baby without all the stress. The threats and voice messages. Now, here's where things get even scarier because this wasn't just yelling and mean text anymore. Digi started sending voice messages, real threatening ones. In one of them, Haley

[00:06:36,000 - 00:07:35,000] says he told her, "If you ever leave me, I'll ruin your life. I swear on everything." Let that sink in. That's not just emotional manipulation. That's straight up intimidation. And then he started talking about taking full custody of their baby, not because he thought it was best for the child, but because he wanted to punish her. He was angry. He felt like he was losing control. And Haley was just trying to stay strong, but you can only take so much. She said she started sleeping with

[00:07:06,000 - 00:08:10,000] the lights on, double-checking her locks. She didn't feel safe in her own home anymore. And that's when she realized this wasn't just some celebrity breakup. This was serious. The day she filed for protection. So, fast forward to the day Haley Bailey finally went to court. She filed a temporary restraining order against DDG. She brought screenshots, voice recordings, and even video evidence from the broken ring camera. She showed the judge how he kept showing up without permission. How he

[00:07:38,000 - 00:08:42,000] smashed her stuff. How he talked to her. How he threatened her. And she made one thing super clear. I am scared for myself and my child. She wasn't being dramatic. She was terrified. The judge listened and they agreed to put some protection in place right away. Now DG can't come near Haley or their son. He has to stay at least 100 yards away and there's going to be a hearing to decide if the order should be permanent. But y'all, the drama is far from over. DDG is out here acting like none of this is

[00:08:10,000 - 00:09:09,000] real. He's been posting on Instagram, smiling, taking selfies, dropping cryptic tweets like he's trying to play it cool or make people think that Haley is lying. But the receipts he dropped, they don't lie. And trust me, that's not even everything because next up, we're going to talk about how fans are reacting. what Haley sister said and what this means for DDG's career going forward. So stay locked in. The next part is coming real soon. Hit that bell so you don't miss it. We're not done

[00:08:39,000 - 00:09:42,000] yet. DDG confronted Haley over rumors about Brent Friers. So after all that chaos, DDG still couldn't chill. He confronted Haley over some rumors that were flying around the internet. People were saying that Haley went on a vacation with R&B singer Brent Friers. And get this, folks even claimed she took baby hello with her to chill with Brent. Sounds wild, right? Well, guess what? It wasn't even true. Haley wasn't off somewhere with Brent. She was actually celebrating Mother's Day with

[00:09:10,000 - 00:10:11,000] her sister Chlo and her son Halo. A wholesome, peaceful trip. But DDG didn't want to hear that. The blocks made it seem like she ran off with another man and DJ's son. And that just set him off. You sent Haley a bunch of messages accusing her of being messy. Say things like, "This is foul. Bet. You think you're hurting my feelings when you're really just ruining your own image." He went on to call her disgusting and evil. Then he hit her with a fake calm message. Enjoy your vacation. Happy

[00:09:41,000 - 00:10:49,000] Mother's Day. But it wasn't sweet. It was passive, aggressive, and salty. DDG was mad. not just about the rumor, but the idea of Haley possibly moving on and having peace without him. Haley responded calmly and showed her true character. Now, while DDJ was sending messages full of anger, Haley stayed calm, like real calm, and her reply showed just how much she's grown. She told him, "Not with any man out here. I wouldn't do that. I have hello. Please let me enjoy my mother's day in peace."

[00:10:14,000 - 00:11:25,000] That's it. No yelling, no drama, just straight peace. She wasn't trying to She just wanted space and respect as a mom on Mother's Day. That little message says a lot. Oh, and here's another one. DG is also banned from talking about Haley or their baby, hello, online. That means no more runs, no more tweets, no more streams where he tries to paint her as the villain. This was Haley's moments to breathe. Finally, after everything she's been through, from alleged abuse to public slander to

[00:10:50,000 - 00:11:15,000] dealing with rumors, this court decision was a turning point. But even though she got this small win, the road ahead still looks rocky. And there's still more to unpack.
